CONTAINER MANAGEMENT

Media Pack 2026

cm – delivering critical information to industry leaders

Making key decisions in a rapidly changing market requires immediate access to factual and unbiased news, especially in such uncertain times. For over 35 years, cm has been a reference point for the global container transport sector, offering accurate and reliable information, in-depth analysis and opinion from experienced commentators.

Our readers appreciate our impartiality and authoritative coverage of the cargo handling sector, delivering articles on port and terminal developments, equipment innovations, the industry's digital and green future, and much more.

Our comprehensive coverage is easily accessible:

Daily – Our online news service provides articles that are available via computer, smartphone or tablet

Weekly – Our newsletter offers subscribers a comprehensive summary of the most relevant news over the past week

All year round – We publish eight issues a year of our main cm magazine, the twice-yearly cm Latin America supplement and our annual World Top Container Ports and World Map to keep readers up to date, featuring in-depth analysis of the latest news, trends and investments cm contains a wealth of topical articles covering developments in ports and terminals around the world, new equipment launches, technological trends, regulatory changes and business deals. Our coverage provides in-depth analysis of regional markets and the issues that define them, all researched and written by our in-house team of professional journalists, drawing on perspectives from industry leaders and data insights.

Features

Profiles

Every issue of cm includes a Business Profile highlighting the journey of a successful company within the industry, looking at its evolution and prospects for the future.

Analysis of global markets

In every issue of cm, our features analyse key industry-specific trends while contextualising the overarching economic and political issues of the day and offering insight into how innovators are dealing with complex problems.

Regional focus

Every issue of cm includes features exploring developments in a particular region of the world – including developed, emerging and frontier markets – providing readers with the knowledge that shapes their strategies.

Specialist features

The efforts of cm's in-house team of skilled writers are supplemented by contributions from industry experts, providing historical context and original insights into the most significant issues affecting the sector.

Latin America

Our biannual cm Latin America supplement is now in its second decade and is unrivalled as the leading source of information on the region's container sector. Published each spring and autumn, cm Latin America offers in-depth and unbiased reporting on economic and political developments, business strategies in the public and private spheres, challenges faced by operators in the region, new terminal developments and the latest equipment launches.

World Top Container Ports and World Map

Frequently copied though never matched, World Top Container Ports and the World Map are widely acknowledged as the most authoritative point of reference for the world's leading container ports, not only for executives in the maritime industry but also for global investors and academics. The publication ranks the world's top 120 container ports based on their annual volumes, offering concise updates on developments at each over the past year. Renowned for providing an unbiased assessment of the global container industry together with a wealth of statistical data, the agenda-setting journal also analyses global trends and identifies up-and-coming ports to watch in the future.
